What to Expect from the Weekend

Saturday Level I:

In this workshop Kathy will help you recognize times that you already have experienced intuitive communication with animals. We use our intuitive muscle, our knowing, every day. Unfortunately, we do not take time to recognize the subtleties of the events when they occur.

The morning will be spent “wakening” your muscle with specific exercises. Kathy uses the word “wakening” due to our intuitive muscle is a little sleepy. We rely heavily on electronic communication much of our waking hours. I.E. Cell phones, internet so forth If you do not use a muscle it becomes weak and atrophies. The exercises you will participate in will help wake up your intuitive muscle.

You will participate in exercises which assist in increasing your receptivity to intuitive communication.

You will learn to quiet and focus your mind.

We do not focus on “speaking” with our own animals at first. We concentrate on “speaking” with our partners animals first. We all need validation to help with our confidence.

Example: If you were to speak with your dog first, and you asked, “What is your favorite activity?” And your reply was a visual of a red ball. Your first thought would be “I knew that.” Your second thought would be “I’m making this up”. “Speaking” with your partners animals first will validate the information you receive without questioning yourself i.e. “Am I making this up?”

Please do not bring your animal friends to the workshop we use photographs. They do not need to be clear or recent as long as you know the animal well to validate the information received by your partner.

Participants will need:

A really big SMILE!

(3) Photos of living animals for Level I

Water - you will need to drink plenty of water. When working out any muscle you need to replenish the body. Water helps with fatigue, headaches, and of course hydration.

Bring a Snack/Lunch for your convenience.

*The Photos do not need to be recent, but they must be of your own animal(s) or animal(s) you know well.

Sunday Level II:

This Workshop was formed to enhance and broaden the skills learned in Level I.

We will begin to focus more on the details, to ask questions based from the answers the animal(s) give you. Create more of a 3-way conversation. The “crutches” given to you in Level I will slowly be removed. The need to use photographs and write down information is not necessary.

You will have an open conversation with your partner and their animal, i.e. no writing or photographs will be required by the student.

Must have attended Level I before moving to Level II.

Broaden your skills acquired in Level I.

We will explore the view points and feelings within a specific animal.

Learn to contact departed animals.

Learning how to ask questions more effectively.

Gain more confidence in your abilities as an animal (intuitive) communicator.

Participants will need:

(3) Photos of living animals for Level I & Level II

(1+) Photos of departed animal(s) for Level II

Water - you will need to drink plenty of water. When working out any muscle you need to replenish the body. Water helps with fatigue, headaches, and of course hydration.

Bring a Snack/Lunch for your convenience.
